the vision of his pupil. In the oration Smith asserted that when the race question was considered the whites all stood together, and were opposed to the blacks; that the whites had
their hands on the neck, and that all
whites were against them.

President Hickman detected in that language a faint reference to the December trouble.

He pointed out the paragraph to Smith and told him he was wrong in his assertion. Smith grasped the issue quickly and a warm, lengthy discussion ensued between the professor and the student. Smith asserted positively that he was right, and emphasized the word "all." The president went to a blackboard, and by a diagram showed Smith the comprehensiveness of the word.

"You are too strong in your language," said
the president. "That means the entire world.
In that you are wrong. Besides the people
among whom you are living are your friends,
and your best friends."

"I can't see it that way," said Smith, "and you can cut out the sentence you want, but it will be interfering with my liberty."

President Hickman did strike out the language.

On the night of the entertainment, a dozen or more of Smith's friends and warm admirers
arranged themselves on the front seats.
Smith's turn on the program came, and he rose. His delivery was fine, and the audience was pleased. So was President Hickman, until Smith repeated the very language which had been erased.

This was a direct violation of the president's instruction.

When Smith uttered the words his friends
applauded loudly, showing they were in sympathy with him.

The day after the entertainment President
Hickman sent for Smith and informed him that he would have to submit a written apology before the entire school for his conduct.

Smith declined to do so.

He was then informed that he would have to leave the university.

This he did, going into south-west Georgia,
where he taught school successfully.

One of the rules governing the university
denies the privilege of the university grounds
to anyone who has been suspended or expelled
from the school.

Tuesday Smith came back to Atlanta, and went out to the university. He entered the grounds and began circulating among his friends. President Hickman saw him and sent him a message to leave.

Smith refused to comply, and the superintendent was instructed to put him off. This had no effect, and President Hickman went to Smith, saying:

"You must leave the grounds. You know the rules give you no right here."

"If I don't go, what'll you do?" asked Smith.

"I'll put you off," answered the president.

"All right," remarked the ex-student.

Later when the president and superintendent sought Smith to get him, he was surrounded by his friends. He and his supporters showed conclusively that they were in for the war, and the president withdrew.

President Hickman then went to Justice
Poole's office and secured a warrant for Smith.
In it he was charged with trespass. The warrant was given a bailiff, and late Wednesday afternoon he was arrested and taken before Judge Poole. There his trial was fixed for 9 o'clock Thursday.

That was the university's final commencement day.

The case was called in court yesterday morning.

And the commencement exercises were suspended, as everybody connected with the university was required to be in court. Quite a long list of witnesses were examined, and then Judge Poole discharged Smith, asserting that the university grounds were public and that Smith was not trespassing.

Some time ago the university raised its standard, and this year refused to give diplomas for a completion of the academic course.

Soon after Smith's discharge, the students who have just completed the academic course demanded diplomas, and quite a storm ensued
the refusal of the president to comply.

THE JAPANESE WEDDING

Has Been Postponed Until Friday, June 6th, Next.

There was a large and enthusiastic meeting of the ladies of the auxiliary committee at the parlors of the Young Men's Christian association last evening.

In view of other entertainments in hand,
and the fact that some of the young ladies
who are to take part in the Japanese wedding were engaged in other entertainments and would not be present, the wedding was postponed until Friday evening, June 6th, when it will be given.

There will be a very important meeting of the ladies' auxiliary committee at the parlors of the Young Men's Christian association at 8 o'clock Monday evening.

NO DIPLOMAS GIVEN

TO SOME OF THE CLARK UNIVER-SITY STUDENTS.

The President of the School Has Trouble
With a Student Who Was Suspended
Last January—An Arrest.

There is a big row at the Clark university.
The students, or rather, quite a number of the leading and most prominent ones, are engaged in a determined, desperate insurrection.
So determined have they shown themselves,
and so desperate have they been, that President W. H. Hickman has been compelled to appeal to the officers of the law.

The trouble began Wednesday afternoon,
and culminated yesterday morning.

And it engrossed the attention of the entire city, every student, Justice Poole and two or three bailiffs all yesterday morning.

Sensational and interesting are the events which opened the story.

It began immediately after President Davis's death, in December last.

The students at the university have a paper in which they print their own productions. In December last R. S. Lovington, a smart, well-educated negro, was the managing editor of the paper, and prepared an editorial upon Mr.
Davis's death. The production was extremely severe, the bitterest language imaginable being used about the dead president.

When the article reached President Hickman he read it carefully, and then urged Lovington not to print it. The editor insisted upon the publication of the editorial, and was advised.

Each one of the smartest students at the university. They both asserted that they had a right to print the attack upon Mr. Davis and said that they would do so anyhow.

"But," said President Hickman, "this is a college paper and not a political paper."

The two students continued to disagree with the president.

The article, however, was not printed.

The suppression of the editorial made Lovington and Smith angry with the president, especially with Smith angry.

For some days after the disagreement between President Hickman and Smith and Lovington nothing else was discussed about the university.

The discussion quickly created two factions.
Smith became quite a hero in the eyes of his liberals and his essays and declamation upon the freedom of the press were listened to by them attentively.

President Hickman, however, paid no attention to the dissatisfaction.

In January last a literary entertainment was given at the university. On the program the Smith appeared as one of the orators. Immediately after his selection Smith prepared his oration and then submitted it to President Hickman. It was an admirable production, and the president, delighted with the wisdom of his pupil. In the oration Smith
asserted that when the race question was considered the whites all stood together, and were
opposed to the blacks; that the whites had
their hands on the neck, and that all
whites were against them.

President Hickman detected in that lan-

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

IT MAKES SEVERAL INCREASED
APPORTIONMENTS.

The Water Bonds Go at Par Value—Another
School-House to Be Built in the Third Ward—Some Interesting Figures.

Atlanta gets richer every day.
What better evidence of this fact could be asked than the increased apportionments
made by the finance committee of the general council yesterday at its meeting?

The members of the committee met in Mr.
Hugh T. Inman's office at 4:30
p. m., and with a "full attendance" proceeded with the consideration of the list of apportionments made out and submitted by Comptroller J. H. Goldsmith.

After hearing the reading of the list the committee took action upon each of the additional apportionments with the following results:

The committee recommended that the general council provide $10,000 more for the appropriation to public schools,
which warrants the establishment of another school building for the year 1890. It will be remembered that the board of education at the beginning of the year asked for sufficient appropriations to erect two school buildings, one on Wallace street in the fifth ward, and the other on Love street in the third ward. In January, only $25,000 was appropriated for lots and buildings, besides the $100,000 for teachers' salaries, etc.
With this only the Wallace street school was obtained, but with the additional apportionment recommended yesterday the Love street school may be established as well.

THE STREET APPORTIONMENT.

In addition to the $30,000 apportioned in January by the general council for street improvements, and $10,000 for opening streets, an appropriation of $9,500 was added by the finance committee yesterday for the opening of more streets. The appropriation in January was divided in the opening of Edgewood avenue and Wheat street, and the appropriation made yesterday will go to the opening of Loyd street and others that are now being contemplated.

No change was made in the sewer apportionment, which remains $185,000, as appropriated in January by the general council.

The finance committee made no change in the appropriation for Belgian blocks, which is $183,200.

There was no change in the $50,000 apportionment made last January for sidewalks, etc.
A provision for $10,000 was recommended by the committee for laying water pipes through the city. The original appropriation made last January by the council was $37,000 for current expenses, and $5,000 for the laying of pipes. The increased appropriation will give $15,000 for the laying of water pipes in Atlanta for the year '90.

The remainder of the original apporportion-ments was left unchanged.

THE WATER BONDS.

The finance committee recommends that the general council accept a bid made by the Capital City Bank, and the American Trust and Banking company, for the entire issue of four per cent water bonds at par, amounting to $250,000.

There was another bid before the committee for about $100,000 of these bonds at par, but the committee accepted the bid for the entire issue, believing it to be the wiser plan to lump the bonds in one sale.

WHAT THE INCREASES MEAN.

The additions made in the school and water departments, and for the opening of the streets, mean a great deal for Atlanta's growth.

There will be, inestimable advantages derived from these apportionments.

Especially will the school appropriation be a great boon for Atlanta and the people of the third ward.

Surely Atlanta is prospering.

THE ELEPHANT FUND.

An Entertainment by Some Little Ones—One Child's Letter.

A number of bright girls and boys, who are interested in the elephant movement, gave an entertainment at the residence of Mrs. Dr. Jones, on Peachtree street, last Wednesday evening,
in behalf of the fund. The occasion was a very enjoyable one to both spectators and promoters, and the sum of $8 was realized. This has not been turned in yet, as the entertainment is to be repeated. As a lovely little girl remarked to the elephant officer yesterday,
the children want to see how much money
they can raise by Saturday.

Little Marie Evans, of Oxford, writes a little letter, and sends a nickel for the elephant fund. She says:

interested in most is the elephant. Please accept my contribution. This little brother and I hope to have a ride on him some time. MARIE EVANS.

TOM OLIVE, OF OGLETHORPE.

He May Be a Candidate for Congress in the Fifth.

Colonel Tom Olive, the statesman from Oglethorpe, sat in the Kimball corridor last evening, and there was greeted by many friends.

He talked politics, and he talked everything else, but he didn't say anything about the congressional fight in the fifth.

"Are you a candidate?" somebody asked.

"No-o," and he seemed to hesitate.

"I mean, do you intend to be a candidate?"

"You're pumping me now. You—"

"A direct question deserves a direct answer,
you know."

"Well, all I can say is, I'll answer you later."

As between Colley and Lawson he thought the contest would be very close.

"It is true," Colonel Olive was asked, "that your candidacy hinges on Judge Lumpkin's candidacy for the supreme bench; that is, if he is a candidate you will not be?"

"Not at all, not at all," was the emphatic reply.

All of which seems to indicate that the gentleman from Oglethorpe has a congressional campaign in mind, and just at present it is buzzing in a right lively manner.

Colonel Olive will be in the city today.

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

Of the Fifth Congressional District Met Yesterday.

To meet again on the 12th of June, at 11 o'clock in the senate chamber at the capitol.

At that meeting to fix the date for holding a convention to nominate a democratic candidate for congress from the fifth district.

That was the action taken at the meeting of the executive committee yesterday. It was organized in Mr. J. J. Spalding's office by the selection of Hon. Toombs Spearman, of Walton, chairman.

Mr. M. R. Reggsdale, of DeKalb, was made secretary.

Since the last meeting of the committee,
Hon. E. A. Massey, member of the committee from Douglas county, died, and his place is still vacant. It is the request of the committee, expressed in a resolution unanimously adopted, that the democratic citizens of Douglas county appoint some suitable member in Mr. Massey's place, in time to be represented at the meeting on the 12th.

RIFLES AND ZOUAVES.

THEY ARE READY FOR THEIR RUN
TO KANSAS CITY.

The Rifles Will Leave Tonight at Midnight
—The Rifles Drill Tonight and Go
Tomorrow—Both Trains Ready.

The Rifles and Zouaves are ready for their trip to Kansas City.

The Zouaves will leave tonight at 11:35.
The Rifles will go tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The Zouaves leave the city on the Western and Atlantic train, accompanied by Mr.
Charley Walker, of the Western and Atlantic;
Mr. C. S. Shattuc, traveling passenger agent of the Ohio and Mississippi; and Mr. B. F.
Blake, traveling passenger agent of the Burlington route. From Chattanooga the company will take the Cincinnati Southern to Cincinnati.

There Mr. Shattuc will assume command of the company and lead them on to St. Louis over one of the smoothest, prettiest, quickest roads in the country. As the train rolls into St. Louis the Zouaves and their three guardians will be welcomed by the Busch Zouaves and Walsh
Zouaves, and other military companies.

This will be early Sunday morning.
The Zouaves will spend Sunday in St.
Louis as the guests of the two Zouave companies, and will give an exhibition drill. Captain Hollis has been offered a handsome purse to treat the St. Louis people to a drill by his team, but he declined the purse and will put the Zouaves through a manual only to keep them in trim.

Sunday evening when the Rifles special train rolls into St. Louis Mr. Blake, of the Burlington, will find himself in command of both Atlanta companies and a half dozen more southern companies. Of these he will make the biggest military train ever seen in the west.

And that train will glide across the old Missouri prairies on the prettiest line in the west
—the Burlington—and Mr. Blake will see that the soldiers have all they want.

The Rifles will put up their last drill tonight
on the capitol grounds.

It will be a full dress parade.
After their drill they will march to their piano vestibule parlor car, where they will be joined by the Zouaves and quite a number of lady friends.

Mr. Kight, of the East Tennessee, who will accompany the Rifles to Kansas City, received a telegram yesterday stating that the company would reach Atlanta today at noon.

It will then be taken direct to the factory of the Cooper Atlanta
piano company, where one of the finest pianos will be placed in it. The car will then be side-tracked, and in the evening the Rifles
guests will hear the famous Atlanta quartette on rails. The piano car and the company's deeper, being beautifully decorated by the East Tennessee road.

Mr. Kight is exerting himself to make the trip one of rare pleasure to the members of the company. On either side of the coaches will be banners returned to the Rifles, and the company to Kansas City. On the piano car will be banners "Piano Parlor Car." The piano used in this car was furnished by the Cooper Atlanta Piano Co.

It now looks like the old East Tennessee will require three sleepers to pull the Atlantians away with the Rifles.

Mr. Kight says he will be in St. Louis Sunday morning.

SOCIETY GOSSIP.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. Thornton, of Memphis, and Captain W. S. Everett, of this city, with a host of good wishes.

With the Grand Army of the Republic to Andersonville today.

MACON, Ga., May 29.—[Special].—The Southern Cadets, who were to have fired the salute over the graves of the federal dead at Andersonville tomorrow, have notified Commander Crawford that it will be impossible for them to take part in the exercises.

The following is Captain Sims' letter to the Post:

MACON, Ga., May 29, 1890.—Mr. J. D. Crawford, Commanding U. S. Jones Post, Fifth Georgia Regiment, Macon, Ga.—Sir: The invitation of your post to the Southern Cadets to take part in the ceremonies of Decoration Day at Andersonville, has been duly received, and I can assure you that my company appreciate the honor, and would most gladly avail themselves of the opportunity to honor the brave dead, but for the duties of the following day, which require the presence of our men, owing to our business, we can't accept your invitation and comply with the same, I am, respectfully, Sir, your obedient servant, J. D. Sims, Captain Southern Cadets.

Commander Crawford appreciated the Cadets' position, and immediately sent the following to Captain Sims:

MACON, Ga., May 29, 1890.—Mr. J. D. Sims, Captain Southern Cadets, Macon, Ga.—Dear Sir: Your communication of the 28th just received. Myself and comrades regret very much that your company cannot join us in our services at the Andersonville tomorrow, and in lieu thereof we will accept your kind offer to loan us the necessary guns and blank cartridges with which to fire our salute to the dead. We will form a couple of squads from our own post, and our visiting ex-prisoners from the north to perform the part of the service, again thanking you for your kindness and efforts in our behalf. I remain, yours very truly, J. D. Sims, Commander E. S. Jones Post, No. 5, G. A. R.

A very interesting feature of tomorrow's programme as mapped out by the Macon post of G. A. R., will be the speech made by the post commander at the Hotel Lanier. The post has invited every ex-confederate soldier in Macon to meet with them and partake of "hard-luck." They will spend the evening in the hotel, and course, and it will be a most enjoyable occasion.

THE SECOND GEORGIA BATTALION.

Their Drill at Macon Yesterday—Honoring Lee.

MACON, Ga., May 29.—[Special].—The regular annual drill of the Second Georgia Battalion took place in this city today. Colonel Wiley was selected today for the drill in honor of the south's hero whose monument is being unveiled in Richmond.

The companies of the battalion were unable to attend these ceremonies, and Colonel Wiley thought it proper that it should make some of the companies of the battalion of the occasion. The line of march was taken up promptly at 2 o'clock in the following order:

Floyd Rifles, twenty-five strong; Perry Rifles, thirty-three strong; Southern Cadets, twenty-four strong; Baldwin Blues, twenty strong; Macon Volunteers, forty strong; Putnam Rifles, thirty-five strong.

Adjutant Hugenst, Staff Officer E. S. Wilson and Sergeant Major Edridge took part in the drill.

DEATH OF DR. DAMOUR.

One of Macon's Well-known Citizens Gone.

MACON, Ga., May 29.—[Special].—Dr. James A. Damour, one of Macon's well-known and highly respected citizens, died last night at his home in this city. A BAD ACCIDENT.

Occurred Yesterday at the Agricultural Works in Macon.

MACON, Ga., May 29.—[Special].—This morning a white workman named Simmons met with a frightful accident at the agricultural works in this city. A rip-saw with which he was working broke, cutting him badly in several places and thrusting a large piece of wood into his side. Dr. Johnson was called, and as soon as the wounds were dressed the man was carried to his home, near Boundary street. His injuries are very severe, but it is not thought they will prove fatal.

PLEDGER DENOUNCED.

AS A DANGEROUS LEADER OF HIS RACE.

A Charge That He Said He Would Be Pleased to See Athens in Ashes—What the Banner Says.

ATHENS, Ga., May 29.—[Special].—The Banner will contain the following tomorrow: I am glad to see Athens in ashes. I would like to see a torch-light procession in Athens, of burning houses, from Dr. Hunslett's to the Ogeechee river, and I am ready to lead the procession."

Such were the words that fell from the lips of W. A. Pledger, when he was told of the burning of Hon. H. H. Carlton's barn, at Cloverhill, on May 28. Mr. Pledger, our well-known livery-stableman, reported to Dr. L. D. Sledge and other responsible gentlemen, and this wish, we believe, will be the father of action.

Pledger is the recognized leader of the negroes in Georgia and this city, and by simply raising his finger, he can start up a torch-light procession with torches in hand. His words show that there is malice and hatred in this negro's heart against the people of Athens, and he only wants an opportunity to lay our beautiful and prosperous city in ashes.

It is understood that Pledger does this, any one acquainted with his power and influence over the blacks, well knows. Now, we ask you to consider the danger to our city, and to our peace and safety, if he is not removed from this matter forever remove this fire-brand from our midst. Let a committee of representative citizens take upon themselves to investigate this threat, and then if they find that it is true wait on Pledger in person and without disguise, give him pointed orders never to again set foot upon our soil, and then if he persists in so doing treat him as you would a mad dog, and shoot him on the spot.

Remove a few such leaders as Bill Pledger, and our black population would be happy and contented. But, so long as he remains in our midst, the citizens of Athens are sleeping over an asphyxiating volcano that may break forth at any moment. The peace and safety of Athens must be preserved at all hazards, and the men whose duty it is to look after the order of our city, and the safety and welfare of its women and children, should see that such incendiaries as W. A. Pledger are exiled from our midst. We do not counsel hasty or lawless steps, but if Pledger's words are correctly reported the sooner this negro is made to shake the dust of Athens from his feet the better for both races.

But there may be even more in this threat of Pledger's than appears on the surface. Who knows but that some of his agents are responsible for the burning of Dr. Carlton's barn. A man who would goad over such a disaster and desire to visit a similar infliction upon our entire city would not hesitate to direct one of his black agents apply the torch.

DEATH OF REV. D. L. HUME.

The Guide of the Famous Stonewall Jackson Passes Away.

MADISON, Ga., May 29.—[Special].—Rev. B. L. Hume died yesterday morning. He was born in Virginia and came to Georgia during the last year of the war. He was at once engaged by the famous general, Stonewall Jackson, as guide and chaplain, and he followed that great southern leader through the heat of the battle, plotted him through the mountains of Virginia, and slept in his tent and on his couch with him at night. He was with him at his sad death, and followed his remains to the grave.

Rev. Benjamin L. Hume was a relative of the famous English historian, David Hume. He knew Daniel Webster well in his younger days, and many other famous figures.

The funeral services this morning were in charge of the Morgan County Confederate survivors' association. A large number of old soldiers were in line, many of the above stated. All business houses were closed, and business was suspended during the services.

ROME DISTRICT CONFERENCE.

CARTERSVILLE, Ga., May 29.—[Special].—The Rome district conference of the Methodist church, Rev. A. C. Thomas, presiding elder, occupying the chair. Dr. W. S. Coleman, of Cedartown, was elected secretary of the conference, and Rev. Crawford Jackson, assistant secretary. The morning hour was consumed by reports of pastors on the condition of their respective churches. About thirty members and forty lay delegates are in attendance on the session of the conference.

Dr. W. F. Quillian, of Rome, preached an eloquent sermon at 11 o'clock. The afternoon was spent in discussing the "best means of promoting the spirituality of the church."

Rev. B. F. Fraser occupied the pulpit to-night. Rev. Sam P. Jones arrived this afternoon and will preach tomorrow at 11 o'clock. "Concentration" will be his theme. Delegates are arriving on almost every train, and much interest is felt in the proceedings of the conference.

The Weather and the Crops.

WAYNESBORO, Ga., May 29.—[Special].—Recent heavy and continual rains throughout the county have been very much to the benefit of the crops. The corn is up and the ground will harden and become very much packed when the rain dries off. There is plenty of grass on hand and hard work before them to get their farms clear and plowed over again, since the heavy rains have fallen. The oat crop in Burke, will pan out much better than was anticipated and a medium crop will be made.

A Fire at Dublin.

DUBLIN, Ga., May 29.—[Special].—Two large brick stores, belonging to J. M. Reinhardt, corner of Jackson and Laurens streets, burned last night about 11 o'clock. J. E. Brady, general merchandise, occupied one, and J. M. Reinhardt the other. Loss $30,000; insurance $30,000. The alarm was sounded during the commencement exercises of the Dublin academy. A general panic ensued, but no one was seriously injured.

A description of Robert has been left with the force, he being wanted for assault and battery by the civil authorities. When arrested a white woman found him, and Judge Cleveland took him through a speedy trial for carrying concealed weapons. He was guilty he said, and the judge charged him $50 and cost or twelve months on the chain-gang. Robert chose the latter.

Colonel Livingston in Dawson.

BEER BURGLARS.

EIGHT ARRESTS MADE YESTERDAY MORNING.

A Crowd of Boys Enter the Brewery Warehouse on Wall Street and Have a Frolic on Stolen Beer.

The police are on the trail of the beer burglars.

Yesterday morning THE CONSTITUTION printed the facts of the breaking open of the Atlanta City Brewing company's wall street warehouse.

It was past 1 o'clock when the broken lock was reported at police headquarters. What the discovery was made it was not known what the extent of the robbery had been.

On later investigation eight arrests were made.

The first arrests were made between 2 and 3 o'clock, just as THE CONSTITUTION was going to press.

It appears that the brewery store-house was broken into by a crowd of young men out for a night's lark.

About 2 o'clock yesterday morning, after the breaking open of the warehouse had been discovered and reported, Patrolman Harper was attracted to the platform in the rear of the Standard Wagon company's warehouse, near the city hall.

There he found a crowd of white boys engaged in a row. They were all more or less under the influence of liquor, and were somewhat hilarious.

Someone had struck O. E. Murray a blow across the forehead with a lantern, and when the patrolman appeared he was bleeding considerably.

Murray and two other young men, Julian Yarnold and R. F. Wilson, were arrested, charged with disorderly conduct and quarrelling.

At the station-house one of the young men dropped a pointer about a keg of beer yet untapped that had been left behind.

The three were locked up, and then a consultation was held. Captain Thompson was of the opinion that the young men were implicated in the beer burglary, and "suspicion" was marked opposite their names on the state ticket.

Captain Thompson, with Patrolmen Taylor, Harper and Martin then started out to investigate further. They went to the platform where the arrests had been made.

Hidden back under the platform, so full of beer that they could not help themselves out, were four more of the crowd suspected of having pilfered the kegs of beer.

Captain Thompson and his squad finally succeeded in fishing them out with long sticks twisted into their clothing.

A keg of beer, an empty keg and another keg in process of emptying were also found.

The four arrested young men were Ernest Beach, John Garvin, Homer Hammond and Tom Strauss. They were brought to the station-house and locked up on suspicion.

A second raid was made, and Ed Jones was captured in a house on Thompson street. He was very full of the beer supposed to have been stolen, and in the room was found a keg that was waiting to be tapped.

It was sun-up yesterday morning when Captain Thompson and his squad wound up their investigation by bringing Jones and the beer kegs to the station-house in the patrol wagon.

Charges of burglary will be preferred against the eight young men. Their night's frolic may cost them dearly.

There is not much doubt about the beer they got boozey on, as that stolen from the warehouse of the Atlanta City Brewing company. One of the young men acknowledges having helped carry one of the kegs away from the platform fronting the warehouse entrance.

They claim that they bought the beer from a young man who got away when the police made the first raid, arresting the three young men engaged in the fight.

MEMORIAL DAY.

The National Cemetery at Marietta to be Visited Today.

Today is Memorial Day. A day set apart for paying tribute to the memory of those who fell in defense of the union.

Atlanta will do her share toward honoring these brave men who wore the blue, and a delegation of from 200 to 300 members of the Grand Army of the Republic will visit the national cemetery at Marietta for that purpose.

The veterans of P. M. Mitchell post, commanded by past commander Ira M. Swartz, will leave on a special train at eight o'clock, bearing with them a supply of flowers ample sufficient to decorate all of the 12,000 graves of those who sleep within the quiet precincts of the great burial ground at Marietta. With them will go the Woman's Relief Corps, and such others who desire to go, to whom a cordial invitation is extended. The decorations of flowers will be thankfully received. This train will leave Marietta for Atlanta, on the return trip, at one o'clock in the afternoon.

By special arrangement tickets for the same trip will be sold to grown people at fifty cents and to children at twenty-five.

Others who cannot go on the special train may go on any of the regular trains during the day.

Being, by an act of congress, made a national holiday, it is one that will be observed by many other than the comrades of the Grand Army, out of respect to the memory of those who wore the blue, and the northern people of Atlanta take a pleasure in extending a general invitation to their southern friends and neighbors to accompany them on this mission of condolence.

The programme at the cemetery will be customary exercises of the Grand Army of the Republic, including an oration by Rev. Dr. A. F. Sherrill, chaplain; instructive selections by the Fourth Artillery band; vocal music by Atlanta singers, and then the strewing of the flowers on the graves.

There will be, besides the large crowd from Atlanta, a number of people from Tallapoosa and other points, and the day will be observed with unusual solemnity.

I have myself used, and known others to use, Bull's Sasaparilla with entire satisfaction. I believe it calculated to relieve much suffering and earnestly recommend it to the afflicted.

THEY ARE NOT PROSECUTED.

The Celebrated East Point Cases Out of Court.

Sixty-eight indictments not pressed at once. Seven each against eight men and six each against two others.

These were the alleged East Point rioters, T. P. Aldridge, Josh Moore, Ed Ryan, A. S. Schell, J. F. Bible, Will Caldwell, Bob Caldwell, W. T. Holt, E. C. Bruffey and Dan Hall.

These were charged with whipping seven negroes at East Point last fall, the trouble growing out of the lynching of a negro boy for attempt to commit a rape.

Messrs. Bruffey and Hall were tried on one indictment each some weeks ago, and both came clear.

This left sixty-eight indictments, and after Mr. Hall's trial, the further prosecution of the cases was suspended. It was then decided to transfer them from the superior to the city court, and the matter rested.

Their being no evidence to convict any of the men charged with rioting, Solicitor Hill agreed to not press the cases. After the sheriff and the county clerk had been paid the usual costs in the cases, which would have amounted to a large sum.

The attorneys were Dorsey & Howell, Smith, Arnold, and Hon. Albert Cox, and among those who exerted themselves most earnestly in bringing about the satisfactory result, was Mr. Frank Arnold, who had been hard at work on the cases for a long time.

GREAT DANGER. They Should Be Avoided—A Few Points in Regard to Them.

When the Creator in His wrath (or for His glory?) saw fit to expel His first creation, His own image, from the garden of Eden, He placed on them the curse of disease and death. In after generations He visited His chosen people with many "plagues for their disobedience," but of all the manyills He inflicted upon his fallen creation none are more painful, more loathsome, or more terrible in its effects than asthma, or, as it is called in its ravages and dangerous to life, robbing one of all the pleasures of living. But, as in all other afflictions, He has given a remedy; science in its primitive state was unable to utilize the remedy without causing most intense suffering, and oftentimes leaving the victim in a condition much worse than at first. It was left for the progressive physicians of the present age to offer you a pleasant cure for this most unpleasant disease. You need no longer fear the "cure," with all its pain and dangers, for it is unnecessary. I have laid aside all harsh means and treat you by a rational treatment which will cure you. Have you asthma? If so, it is unnecessary to ask you if you wish to be cured of it. But do you wish to avoid the intense pain, severe operation, or are you wedded to the old belief that you cannot be cured without the crude and painful means formerly employed? If you are, I have nothing to offer you. If you are not, I offer you the very latest science that can give you relief. I will cure you by this rational method, and I offer the same to you confidently, promising you satisfactory results. Many ladies are afflicted with asthma. DORAN & WRIGHT CASE.

THE GOODS WERE TO BE SOLD YESTERDAY BUT WERE NOT.

Because They Had Been Removed from the Office by Mr. Ashworth's Possessory Warrant.

The Doran & Wright company's effects were to have been sold at sheriff's sale yesterday. But the sale did not come off.

Judge Marshall J. Clarke issued the order for the sale of the goods some days ago, but during the interim Mr. Thomas Ashworth had them removed on a possessory warrant. Bailiff Martin did the moving, and he as well as Mr. Ashworth were served with a rule to show cause why they had been removed.

The hearing of the case was begun Tuesday, but was continued over till Wednesday.

On account of the press of other business, Judge Clarke then continued the hearing until Saturday morning at 8 o'clock.

So, when the time of the sale arrived yesterday, the goods were not on hand, and the sale had to be postponed until the hearing in the case is concluded.

It is likely that this will prove one of the knottiest cases that has ever appeared in the superior court, and no one can guess where the end will be, nor what the results will prove.

INMAN PARK NOTES.

Dr. Glenn will move into his new residence on Edgewood avenue about the 1st of June.

The grading of the unfinished streets in the park is progressing rapidly. These streets are all sixty feet wide and will be quite an improvement to the park property.

The East Atlanta Land company has about completed four residences. As to design, arrangement and construction, these houses are unsurpassed.

Another shipment of rare water lilies has just been received and planted in the park lake. These lilies are imported and are the choicest ever brought here. It will be a treat to see them.

In advanced age the declining powers are wonderfully refreshed by Hood's Sarsaparilla. It really does "make the weak strong."

BROWN PARK! GILT-EDGE LOTS IN MARIETTA! I HAVE PURCHASED IN AND ADJOINING the city of Marietta 110 acres of land. This presents a front of 2,000 feet in the city, parallel to the Western and Atlantic railroad, and less than 500 feet distant from it is a splendid view of KENNESAW MOUNTAIN.

These are TWO MINERAL SPRINGS on the property, besides several fountains. From almost every point on it is a splendid view of KENNESAW MOUNTAIN.

I have planted about fifty acres of this, and opened and graded the following: CLEBURNE BOULEVARD, 150 feet wide, with four rows of trees down the middle, and a row by each sidewalk.

BROWN BOULEVARD, 100 feet wide, with two rows of trees between each sidewalk and the driveway.

POLK STREET, 60 feet wide. HARDEN STREET, 50 feet wide. WALKER STREET, 50 feet wide. JONESTOWN STREET, 50 feet wide. WALTHALL STREET, 50 feet wide.

All of these are shown on plat. Besides these, the fashionable Whitlock avenue runs along the southern border of the property, and has also opened a beautiful park, which is thickly covered with timber.

That portion of the park bounded by Polk, Walthall and Johnson streets and Cleburne Boulevard, as shown on plat, will be left as a park for fifteen years from June 1, 1890, then to revert to me or my heirs. That portion of the park bounded by Polk street and west of Cleburne Boulevard, as shown on plat, will be left as a permanent park for the purchasers of lots shown on plat and their heirs and assigns, and my heirs and assigns, or other citizens of Marietta, will spend at least $50 per annum in keeping it in good order; or my heirs will reserve the right to sell the park to the city of Marietta.

The part planted includes 88 LOTS, of which 21 are covered with fine trees.

THE SALE OF 20 FINE LOTS of this property will occur in Marietta within the next few days, date to be furnished later. I will be pleased to furnish a splendid copy of this plat and give other information to those desiring it.

An opportunity never before offered for buying Cartersville property at auction. The sale will be conducted under the Sam Jones tabernacle. $300,000 has been invested in mineral properties around Cartersville during the last twelve months, and thousands of dollars are being expended in improvements and developments in connection with said property.

The Etowah Iron company (strong northern capitalists) recently purchased 17,000 acres of fine mineral property near Cartersville, which they are developing extensively, and they will probably erect extensive works that will be immensely valuable to Cartersville.
